

ROSH HASHANAH SOLOIST: Fred Diengott is a bass/baritone with a master's degree from the Eastman School of Music. Originally from New Hampshire, he spent six of the last eight years studying classical singing in upstate New York, first at Ithaca College and then at The Eastman School of Music. Now based in Brooklyn, Fred performs regularly with the chamber choir, The Salvatones, as well as the Marble Collegiate Choir. In addition to singing, Fred works at a company that provides live music for high-end events.