FROM OUR PRESIDENT....

I love the fall holidays because they are so joyful (except, of course, for Yom Kippur). I know it's a lot for some people but I like the quick succession of holidays: Rosh Hashana, Yom Kippur, Sukkot, Simchat Torah, because of the connection to traditions and the reflections of childhood memories. We are able to immerse ourselves in Judaism during this time of year more than any other.

We are commanded to hear the shofar blown on Rosh Hashana. The shofar is a powerful instrument with a sound that resonates deep within us. I think about the generations of ancestors who have listened to the same sound that I'm hearing. It's been the same sound for over 3000 years. The shofar is a tangible link to our past. It's deeply meaningful to us individually and as a tribe.

The building and ritual committees have been hard at work getting Temple Sholom ready for the holidays. Thanks to president emeritus Dr. Stephanie Phillips' relentless efforts in pursuing grant money, we have a reliable elevator and don't have to worry about breakdowns anymore. Grant funds also allowed us to have a coating applied to the windows to provide an extra level of safety. The parking lot is in the best shape possible as we are short on funds to get actual paving done at this time. We are returning to using our holiday prayer books, and the Zoom recordings will broadcast a picture of the bima, without the use of slides. Prayer books can be borrowed from the temple if you are local, purchased online, or you can load it onto your Kindles for a nominal fee.

We are supposed to erect our succah on October 5th, but due to a critical lack of manpower, we might not be able to do so at all. If you are able to assist in any way, please reach out to Ira Simon or the temple office as soon as possible.

One of my favorite memories of Simchat Torah is the unfurling of the Torah in the sanctuary. Seeing so many members of our congregation help in gently holding it was very moving. Seeing the Torah stretched out in its entirety is a truly unique experience. People volunteered to read a few lines from their bar or bat mitzvah portions. Rabbi Medwin would point out the visual impact of the positive and negative spaces. It was a wonderful way to celebrate our sacred scrolls.

May we all be inscribed in the Book of Life.

Stacey Sharoff

Sukkot

October 6-13, 2025

Sukkot is one of the most joyful festivals on the Jewish calendar. "Sukkot," a Hebrew word meaning "booths" or "huts," refers to the Jewish festival of giving thanks for the fall harvest. The holiday has also come to commemorate the 40 years of Jewish wandering in the desert after the giving of the Torah atop Mt. Sinai.

Also called Z'man Simchateinu (Season of Our Rejoicing), Sukkot is the only festival associated with an explicit commandment to rejoice. Sukkot is celebrated five days after Yom Kippur on the 15th of the Hebrew month of Tishrei, and is marked by several distinct traditions. One, which takes the commandment to dwell in booths literally, is to erect a sukkah, a small, temporary booth or hut. Sukkot (in this case, the plural of sukkah) are commonly used during the seven-day festival for eating, entertaining and even for sleeping.

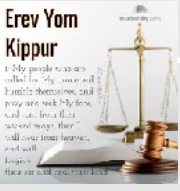

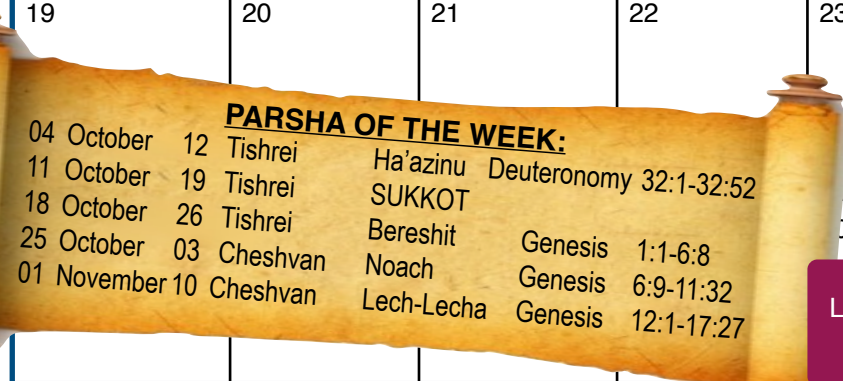

Our sukkot have open walls and open doors, and this encourages us to welcome as many people as we can. We invite family, friends, neighbors, and community to rejoice, eat, and share what we have with each other.

Another name for Sukkot is Chag HaAsif (Festival of the Ingathering), representing the importance in Jewish life of giving thanks for the bounty of the earth.

SURVIVOR VOICES

Bearing Witness from the Holocaust to Today

September 2025

Hurleyville Sentinel, Hatesville, N.Y.

SURVIVORS EXHIBIT & DISCUSSION WITH CHILDREN OF SURVIVORS

by Lily Barrish Levner

MONTICELLO — Hadassah Catskill Mountain Chapter hosted an exceptional panel at Temple Shalom last month. The program was made possible by Dr. Hope Blecher Croney, the founder of Hope's Compass.

Voices of Survivors is an initiative born of that undertaking. Dr. Blecher Croney approached Bonnie Mitzner and Lauren Miller, co-presidents of the Catskill Mountain Chapter of Hadassah of Sullivan County and then the idea began to evolve.

"We did not think we would get this many people to speak. If we had had four, we would've been happy," said Ms. Miller.

On the bottom floor of the temple, Dr. Blecher Croney organized an exhibit with paintings, books, writings, and so much more related to survivors. The evening started with a tour given by her.

Eight children of survivors shared their stories in five-minute allotments.

"We did not talk about it; we were different; it was difficult," were repeated phrases used by all the speakers. Speaking Yiddish at home and fake aunts/uncles to replace the ones they had lost were common themes. "We are all affected by the same people. We all have the same issues I'm seeing," said Dr. Richard Stein. "It's time for the witnesses of the witnesses to step up."

Dr. Stein added that when he first heard that quote, it resonated with him.

One panel member had never talked about this subject before. Another spoke about leaving Germany at one-and-a-half-years-old, immigrating to the US, knowing nobody but their parents. Some recalled watching their parents eating quickly or being thrifty, and teaching them how to put things into perspective.

To wrap up the night, Ms. Mitzner asked each panel member to come up with one thing that they wanted the audience to take away from what they shared. Here are their insightful answers:

Dr. Rick Stein: If you have a friend saying something antisemitic, hold them accountable.

Erika Blume Ribaud: You have to talk about it. Silence is deadly and hurtful and creates issues you don't want.

Dr. Peter Chester: Share the teachable moments. Understand the word survivor takes on many different meanings. People survive when they overcome adversity. It's important for people to share inner strength. In less than 10 years, no Holocaust survivors will be left. We have a responsibility as Jews and as human beings; this means never again.

Mimi Werner: When you begin telling a story about the Holocaust, sometimes people will say, 'well my family was smarter to get out.' I can't explain how hurtful this is. It wasn't a question about smart or clairvoyance of knowing. It had nothing to do with smart. Killing was random, and we shouldn't be smug. We are Jews, and it happened to our people, so it happened to all of us.

Monica Bennett: Judgment. We judge how people look—their style their religion. Stay out of judgment. It's a tough thing to do. Find the similarities, and get out of judgement and ask questions.

Eileen Garchik: I think we have to talk about it. You can't forget there was a Holocaust. We have to keep talking and explaining. It's not taught in schools. We have to talk.

Libby Apatov: We were always surrounded by pain, sadness and happiness. My mother told me this could happen again, and I looked at her like she was crazy. When I now hear the antisemitic rhetoric, I cringe. I even went to my mother and apologized for how I felt before. (Libby's mother is still alive at age 99!)

Shain Fishman: I have a podcast with my daughter called 'Listen To My Mother.' It's about the idea of communicating. Communicating isn't just telling your story; it's having a conversation.

Don't just talk to your kids—listen to your kids.

The stories shared were rich with emotion and vulnerability. Never Forget!

Thank You —

Ralph & Ellen Cutler for the generous donation towards the safety window film.

PRIMETIMERS

On September 8th we celebrated the 40th Anniversary of the Primetimers with a beautiful luncheon at Casa Mia. It was also my eighteenth year as President. Linda Kleinman did an amazing job as chairperson of this event. Everyone got a gift and a 40th anniversary photo. We had mozzarella sticks and pizza to start. Then a great buffet with salad, eggplant, chicken, and a pasta dish. We had coffee and cake and were entertained by Steve Schwartz and Chris Spinner. Linda was assisted by Dee Parcham who ran the Photo Booth, Lois Weinstein, Marcy Glattstein, and Debbie Katz. Thank you all for a memorable day.

The Primetimers Board has been busy planning next year's events. We have our "Day On Your Own" in NYC on Wednesday, June 24, 2026, and Wednesday, August 19, 2026. We will keep the price at $55/pp and will start taking reservations in May.

Our "Annual Card and Mah jongg Party" will be on Monday, July 27, 2026.

Our casino trip will be on Wednesday, August 5. Details to be announced soon.

Next year, at our first meeting on Monday, June 8th, we will have a live presentation from the Sullivan County Dramatic Workshop. Please mark your calendars for the second Monday of every month for our interesting meetings.

Wishing you all a good winter whether you are in Sullivan County or in your winter homes.

Shalom,
Paula

of our beloved Treasurer,
Annette Zerah.

May her memory be for a blessing.
